MORE ABOUT ME

I have always been passionate about music, traveling, and enjoying life to the fullest. I attended music school for seven years, where I learned to play the guitar — something I still love doing to this day. Music is a big part of who I am; I listen to it constantly, whether I'm relaxing, studying, or out with friends. I enjoy going to parties and concerts, meeting new people, and experiencing different atmospheres where music brings everyone together. Traveling is another major passion of mine — I love exploring new places, cultures, and perspectives. Each trip inspires me creatively and gives me new energy to take on challenges in both my personal and academic life.
